ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Ministry of Environment, Lands and Parks wishes to acknowledge three partners whose contributions were invaluable in the completion of the Aboriginal Water Rights Report Series:

The Ministry of Aboriginal Affairs, was a critical source of funding, support and direction for this project.

The U-Vic Geography Co-op Program, was instrumental in providing the staffing resources needed to undertake this challenging task. Through the services of June Whitmore and her office, the project benefited from the research, writing, editing and co-ordination of these outstanding students:

Jas Gill
Julie Steinhauer
Kelly Babcock
Daniella Mogus
Miranda Griffith
Christina Rocha
Rachel Abrams
Elizabeth Lee
Sara Cheevers

The services of Clover Point Cartographics Limited of Victoria, was responsible for the preparation of most of the map drawings, which form a valuable part of these documents.

In addition to these three key partners, I must acknowledge the valuable contributions of other Water Management staff, past and present, including Jack Farrell, Jim Mattison, Richard Penner, Diana Jolly, Greg Blaney, Gary Lucas and Kim Johnston.

The sheer numbers of First Nations groups' with histories of water rights made the completion of the Report Series seem, at times, prolonged. The determination, patience and vision of the partners was essential in the completion of the Series and is gratefully acknowledged.

WATER ALLOCATIONS:

There are no records of any allocations of water made by an Order in Council of the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

The water rights of the Boothroyd Band have been recorded or affected by four actions of government over the years:

1) Allotments by Indian Reserve Commissioners.

   Following confederation, the Province and the Dominion established an Indian Reserve Commission to reserve lands for the Indians without their agreement and for the transfer of those lands to the Dominion. In setting apart lands for reserves, the Reserve Commissioners made it their practice to allot water with the lands. It is understood that this practice was unique among Indian Reserves in Canada and the authority of these Commissioners to allot water rights has always been disputed by the Province.

2) Determination of the Board of Investigation under the Water Act, 1914, of claims of the Department of Indian Affairs, and subsequent issue of water licences.

3) Granting of water licences from Federal Government Application for licences for the use of water on reserves.

4) Actions to amend, cancel or record as abandoned rights under licence pursuant to provisions in the Water Act.

HISTORY, CURRENT STATUS AND NOTES:

No indication has ever been made of any water allocations having been granting to the Boothroyd Band with respect to Boothroyd 5B, Boothroyd 6B, Boothroyd 8A, Boothroyd 13, Chaumox 11, and Sam Adams 12.

The history of water rights, the current status of rights, and notes for the Boothroyd Band with respect to Ainslie/9 Mile Creek, Blue Spring, Bluespring Brook, Chukcheetso Creek, Falls (Cheuhcheuh) Creek/Chukcheetso Waterfalls, Fitzgerald Spring, Graham Spring, Inkahtsaph Creek, Jamieson Creek, Little Creek, Nepopulchin Stream, School Spring, Speyum Stream, Stuckaencent Stream, Stlakament Creek, and Tsawawmuck Springs are as follows:

Ainslie/9 Mile Creek & Tsawawmuck Spring:

History:

Jun 8, 1878 — The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission described a reserve with the same boundaries as Tsawawmuck 1 and allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band:

*"40 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from all sources of water supply which on survey, may be found available, particularly from a * small creek which runs down the mountains from a* spring into the land above waggon road and also from a spring on the old mined ground below waggon road near 32 Mile Post."

The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow over a 120 day irrigation season would be 6.6664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

*Note: The small creek and spring identified in the Minute of Decision are recognized as Ainslie (9 Mile Creek) and Tsawawmuck Spring. These water sources are located near Tsawawmuck Reserve No. 1.

June 10, 1920

At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1998, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Ainslie/9 Mile Creek and Tsawawmuck Springs, for use on Tsawawmuck Reserve No. 1. The Order of the Board, numbered 6542, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

i) provide for the diversion of water from Ainslie or 9 Mile Creek and a spring.
ii) Take precedence from September 26, 1888,
iii) Authorize diversion of a maximum of 37 acre feet per year for irrigation of 18.5 acres of Tsawawmuck Reserve No. 1, provided that 500 gallons per day, year-round, could be used for domestic purposes.

Dec 12, 1933

The Engineer's Report for Final Water Licence 9012 indicated that no works were constructed to diver water from Ainslie Creek. Therefore, it was recommended that Ainslie Creek be deleted upon issuance of the final licence.

Apr 24, 1924

The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7500, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6542.

Nov 20, 1934

Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the former licence were being exercised at the time, the Comptroller of Water rights issued Final Water Licence 9012 (in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 7500) to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boothroyd Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1988 and authorizes the diversion of 4 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from Tsawawmuck Spring, for irrigation purposes on 2 acres of Tsawawmuck Reserve No. 1.

Current Status:

Tsawawmuck Spring:

Final Water Licence 9012 is the only active licence on Tsawawmuck Spring. It is for the use and benefit of the Boothroyd Band.

Water Survey of Canada has no records of stream flow on Tsawawmuck Spring and there is no other current information on water availability.

Notes:

1. The Boothroyd Band's prior right to water allotted by the Indian Reserve Commission has not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The issuance of Final Water Licence 9012 (which substituted Conditional Water Licence 7500) resulted in the reduction of licensed water rights for the Boothroyd Band and a loss of water rights on Ainslie Creek.

Blue Spring & Bluespring Brook:

History:

Jun 8, 1878 — The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band on Shook 5:

"200 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from all sources of water supply which, on survey may be found available."

Feb 7, 1921 — In accordance with an application made by H. Graham, Indian Agent, on behalf of the Boothroyd Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued conditional Water Licence 5371. This licence was given a precedence date of July 2, 1920 and authorized diversion of 33 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from Blue Spring and springs situated on the reserve for irrigation purposes. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day could be used for domestic purposes. The land to which this licence was appurtenant was 14 acres of Boothroyd Reserve No. 5A.

May 1, 1922 — In accordance with an application made by the H. Graham, Indian Agent, on behalf of the Boothroyd Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 6290. This licence was given a precedence date of January 17, 1921 and authorized the diversion of 120 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 3) from Blue Spring for irrigation purposes, provided that of the said 120 acre feet, 2,000 gallons of water a day could be used throughout the whole year for domestic purposes. The land to which this licence was appurtenant was 40 acres of Shook Reserve No. 5.

May 1, 1922

In accordance with an application made by H. Graham, Indian Agent, on behalf of the Boothroyd Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water licence 6292. This licence has a precedence date of January 17, 1921 and authorized diversion of 100 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from Blue Spring for irrigation purpose. The land to which this licence was appurtenant was 105.58 acres of Inkahtsaph Reserve No. 6.

May 9, 1922

A letter from Assistant to Comptroller stated that:

"... the works to be constructed on the above licence [Conditional Water Licence 6292] affect Dominion Crown lands. It will therefore be necessary for you to make application for the right of way required under the Water – Lands Regulations."

There is no evidence on file to suggest that the Boothroyd Band made an application for Right of Way over Crown Land.

Feb 20, 1936

A memo was written by J.C. MacDonald, Comptroller of Water rights, to incorporate Conditional Water Licences 6290 and 5371 with the rights of Conditional Water Licence 6292 from Blue Spring. It was later noted that:

"Regarding suggestion that rights be incorporated for Boothroyd I.R. No. 5 and 5A, it should be pointed out that Conditional Licence 5371 for I.R. No. 5A has an earlier priority, and such an amalgamation would probably not be favourable considered by interested Indians."

Final Water Licences were issued for each of the above three licences. Therefore, the rights of Conditional Water Licences 6290 and 5371 were never incorporated with those of Conditional Water Licence 6292.

May 20, 1937

Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the former licence were being exercised at the time, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Final Water Licence 9999 (in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 5371) to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boothroyd Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of July 2, 1920 and authorizes the diversion of 28 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from Bluespring Brook for irrigation purposes on 14 acres of Boothroyd Reserve No. 5A. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round, may also be for domestic use.

May 20, 1937 — Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the former licence were being exercised at the time, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Final Water Licence 9996 (in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 6290) to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boothroyd Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of January 17, 1921 and authorizes the diversion of 80 acre feet per year from Bluespring Brook, for irrigation purposes on 40 acres of Shook Reserve No. 5. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round may also be for domestic use.

July 20, 1938 — Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the former licence were being exercised at the time, the Comptroller of Water rights issued Final Water Licence 10350 (in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 6292) to the Director of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boothroyd Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of January 17, 1921 and authorized the diversion of 184 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from Bluespring Brook, for irrigation purposes on 92 acres of Inkahtsaph Reserve No. 6. Of this amount, 2,000 gallons per year, year-round may also be for domestic use.

Current Status:

Final Licences 9999, 9996 and 10350 held by the Boothroyd Band are the only active licences on Bluespring Brook.

Water Survey of Canada has no records of stream flow on Blue Spring or Bluespring Brook and there is no other current information on water availability.

Notes:

1. The Boothroyd Band's prior right to water allotted by the Indian Reserve Commission has not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The issuance of Final Water Licences 9999 and 9996 (which substituted Conditional Water Licences 5371 and 6290) resulted in the reduction of licensed water rights for the Boothroyd Band.
3. The issuance of Final Water Licence 10350 (which substituted Conditional Water Licence 6292) resulted in the increase of licensed water rights for the Boothroyd Band.
4. The issuance of Final Water Licence 9999 resulted in the loss of licenced water from spring on Boothroyd Reserve No. 5A.

Chukcheetso Creek:

History:

Jun 8, 1878 — The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band on Chuckcheetso Reserve No. 7:

"100 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from any sources of water supply which on survey may be found available, and particularly from a stream called Chukcheetso, flowing into the Fraser a little above the reserve. The Indians right to come first."

Jun 11, 1920 — At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Chukcheetso Creek and * Chukcheetso Spring, for use on Chukcheetso Reserve No. 7. The Order of the Board, numbered 6733, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

i) provide for the diversion of water from Chukcheetso Creek and Chukcheetso Spring,
ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
iii) authorize diversion of a maximum of 33 acre feet per year for irrigation of 13.1 acres of Chukcheetso Reserve No. 7, provided that 500 gallons per day, year-round could be for domestic use.

*Note: It is assumed that Spring G indicated on the licence is Chukcheetso Spring.

Apr 24, 1924 — The Comptroller of Water rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7502, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6733.

Feb 2, 1935 — The Comptroller of Water rights issued an Order, in accordance with the notice of proposed cancellation dated December 17, 1934, which cancelled Conditional Water Licence 7502.

Further information pertaining to Conditional Water Licence 7502 cannot be located because the file was destroyed in 1945.

Current Status:

There are currently no active licences on Chukcheetso Creek.

Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Chukcheetso Creek and there is no other current information on water availability.

Notes:

1. The Boothroyd Band's prior right to water allotted by the Indian Reserve Commission has not been formally recognized by the Province.

2. The water rights held by the Boothroyd Band under Conditional Water Licence 7502 were cancelled in 1935.

Falls (Cheuhcheuh) Creek/Chukcheetso Waterfalls & Little Creek:

History:

Jun 8, 1878 — The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band on Staiyahanny Reserve No. 8:

*"assigned for other purposes 50 inches of water from all sources of water supply, which on survey, may be found available, particularly from a stream called * Chukcheetso Waterfalls immediately north of the reserve, and from the surplus water in the stream at the 42 mile house for which the aquifer has a record of 30 inches."*

*Note: Chukcheetso Waterfalls is located directly north of Staiyahanny 8 and therefore is assumed to be Falls Creek.

The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band on Dufferin Reserve No. 10:

*"20 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from any source of water supply which, on survey may be found available."

*Note: The water supply identified in the Minute of Decision is Falls Creek, which is located south of Dufferin Reserve No. 10.

Jun 10, 1920 — At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fine application for a record of water from Falls (Cheuhcheuh) and Little Creeks, for use on Staiyahanny Reserve No. 8. The Order of the Board, number 6530, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

i) provide for the diversion of water from Falls (Cheuhcheuh) and Little Creeks,
ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
iii) Authorize diversion of a maximum of 71.1 acre feet per year for irrigation of 23.7 acres of Staiyahanny Reserve No. 8, provided that 1,000 gallons per day, year-round could be for domestic use.

Jun 10, 1920

At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Falls Creek, for use on Dufferin Indian Reserve No. 10. The Order of the Board, number 6529, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

i) provide for the diversion of water from Falls Creek,
ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
iii) authorize diversion of a maximum of 6 acre feet per year for irrigation of 2 acres of Dufferin Reserve No. 10, provided that 500 gallons per day, year-round could be for domestic use.

Oct 22, 1923

The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7353, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6530.

Current Status:

Falls Creek:

Final Water Licence 9149 is the only active licence on Falls Creek. It is for the use and benefit of the Boothroyd Band.

Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Falls Creek and there is no other current information on water availability.

There are currently two active licences on Little Creek, one of which is held by the Boothroyd Band. Of these licences:

Fitzgerald, Norie, Nkatsam, Boothroyd, Drewett & Francis Springs:

History:

Jun 8, 1878 — The Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boothroyd Band on Shook Reserve No. 5:

"200 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from all sources of water supply which, on survey may be found available."

Jun 10, 1920 — At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from unnamed springs for use on Shook Reserve No. 5. The Order of the Board, numbered 6534, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

i) provide for the diversion of water from all the springs,
ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
iii) authorize diversion of a maximum of 756 acre feet per year for irrigation of 302.5 acres of Shook Reserve No. 5, provided that 2,000 gallons per day, year-round could be for domestic use.

Oct 22, 1923 — The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7143, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6534.

May 20, 1937 — Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the former licence were being exercised at the time, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued

Final Water Licence 9997 (in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 7143) to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boothroyd Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorizes the diversion of 50 acre feet per year (from April 1 to September 30) from the six springs within and about Shook Reserve No. 5 for irrigation purpose. OTHER INFORMATION:

Additional Water Records:

The Schedule of Indian Reserve in the Dominion, 1913, is a document published by the federal government, recording each Band's water allocations up to 1913. We believe these records are a compilation of Minute of Decisions, Order-in-Councils, and perhaps other documents. However, as original copies of these documents are unavailable, the dates and information cannot be verified.

Allocations in the Schedule of Indian Reserves in the Dominion for the benefit of the Boothroyd Band which are inconsistent with our findings are:

Reserve	Water Allocation
Speyum	"50 inches of water recorded from Speyum Creek: 50 inches from Nepopulchin Creek, and all the water from all other sources of water-supply on the reserve." Board Order 6735 (Conditional Water Licence 7855) stated that a bona fide application for a record of water from Speyum Creek and Nepopulchin Creek and Spring has been used for beneficial purposes. The Boothroyd Band was granted 256.6 acre feet of water a year. The quantity authorized under the Board Order is less than the amount stated in the Dominion's schedule (50 inches or 333.4 acre feet for both Creeks).
Inkahtsaph	"150 inches of water recorded from Nkatsam Creek, 50 inches from the Creek at the north end of the reserve, and all the water from all other sources of water supply on the reserve." Board Order 6535 (Conditional Water Licence 7141) stated that a bona fide application for a record of water from Inkahtsaph Creek has been used for beneficial purposes. The Boothroyd Band was granted 415 acre feet of water a year. The quantity authorized under the Board Order is less than the amount stated in the Dominion's schedule (200 inches or 1333.4 acre feet).

Groundwater Records:

Review of records of the Groundwater Section found no evidence of wells located on Boothroyd Reserves. However, the provision of this groundwater information is voluntary, and therefore, cannot be assumed to be complete.

Alternate Water Sources:

The proximity of the Boothroyd Reserves to the Fraser River presents the potential for water supply to these reserves via this river system.

At this time the potential for water supply from a municipality is limited as there are no municipal water systems in the proximity of the Boothroyd Reserves.
